The Nalas were a dynasty contemporary to later Gupta rulers Kumara Gupta and Skanda Gupta, and some Gupta feudatories like the Sarabhapuriyas and the Panduvamsis. They are mainly known from copperplate grants and coins. Kings named Arthapatiraja and Bhavadattaraja are known from inscriptions and coins, whereas Skandavarman is known only from inscriptions. Varaharaja, Nandanaraja and Stambharaja are known only from coins. Their capital Pushkari is identified with modern day Garh-Dhanora in Bastar district but they also extended their rule in Vidarbha at the expense of the Vakatakas. They were ultimately vanquished by the Chalukya king Kirtivarman II. The Nala coins are struck in unusual repousse fabric by hammering a thin sheet of gold over a punch, which resulted in the design leaving an intaglio impression on reverse. They are known in two denominations.

Nizams of Hyderabad, local 'Chalnee' issues. Medak is one of the rarest late Mughal mints with less than five coins known so far. It was a Hindu 'Samsthana' under the Nizam of Hyderabad ruled by a Zamindar Raja. Sadasiva Reddy was the ruler of Medak in mid-18th century. He leased the town of Medak to the French general Monsieur Raymond when the latter intervened in succession dispute following the death of Asaf Jah I in 1749. This arrangement continued till Raymond's death in 1798. This coin is struck under Raymond's tenure.

Gold has been a favourite and time-tested investment for ages. In nearly every household in India, a little or more gold remains in the form of jewellery or other items. Given the present volatile global economic situation, gold is proving to be a wise investment against any unfavourable circumstances. The current rationalization of custom duties makes net gold prices very attractive. This is a golden opportunity for collectors, investors, and dealers to acquire historical coins at very appealing prices. We believe this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. Don't miss the chance, grab this golden opportunity. Gold is an all-time favourite.

The Kadambas of Nagarkhanda were another scion of the Kadamba dynasty. They claim to be the descendants of Mayuravarma of Hangal, the progenitor of the Kadamba family & in order to show their genealogical connection with the early Kadambas they styled themselves "the boon lords of Banvasi Pura". This was obviously a mere title as they never in continual possession of this city. Their capital was perhaps the city of Bandhavapura, since they claim to be its boon lords. Their personal title seems to be that of mahamandalesvara and their family god was Lord Shiva.
